Amazon, who has the largest commercial shopping website, has not stopped seeing great dreams about India. He launched a streaming site also called Amazon Prime, and finally, found an Amazon Fire Stick, a remote control controlled by the item for only 4000 rupees available for buying on the website. We mentioned some Amazon Fire Stick channels for you. FIRCICK TV is a powerful streaming support that is a plug-and-play system that offers millions of programs, films, etc. It's like a large storage device with an organized system full of movies, games or any other program of your choice. Comes with a fast Wi-Fi network and a quad-core processor. It has a personalized language system to use your voice in Hindi or English and search for what you want to see. How do we use it? First of all you need an Amazon account registered with your website. And if you don't have one before the configuration, you will be asked to create it. It is necessary that most content comes from the Amazon account. Then connect the first end of your fire to your power adapter and the other end will be connected to the TV HDMI port. Now turn on the TV and join the HDMI channel where you want to activate your fire. A loading sign will appear and connects the remote control now. After Wi-Fi, you're in place! It has a good interface but does not offer to reflect the PC or laptop, but stands out. Channel features Amazon Fire Stick 1. Content has a fantastic collection of thousands of movies, TV programs, sports channels, music and games. It has all Bollywood and Hollywood films divided into sections. Therefore, it can also be connected to your hot star, youtube or ganna, etc. 2. Facility of use Amazon Fire Stick Channels has a fantastic note feature that is pre-installed so you don't have to go through the hassle of downloading it separately. 3. Parental controls The films and shows have those PG signs and must be approved by their parents as they are not at ease, letting their children see content. So now parents can put an access code and a password protect it. And someone wants to see the content. They need to put the password. 4. Track the use of data The user of the fire function can see how many data have been used in the account and in other notifications. You can also notify you if the data limit has been exceeded. 5.
