My kiddos get caught up in their digital devices, and I find myself reminding them that there's a big, beautiful day waiting for them. Then antsy pants Build & Play Kit arrived, and suddenly the kiddos are reimagining playtime. They've rekindled their love of forts and are taking it to the next level with poles that can be arranged and rearranged in endless configurations. Poles with connectors make antsy pants endless fun Made from durable poles and connectors, I found myself comparing the kit to a giant Tinker Toy Kit. Here's what our Antsy Pants Ice Cream Truck Skeleton looks like: We used the Large Antsy Pants Build and Play Kit. I watched as the poles and connectors were snapped together. It was easy to set up...and easy to take down. So easy it's been up and down since that day. Each kit comes with a step-by-step instruction booklet that outlines the number and sizes of poles and connectors needed. Poles and connectors are each color-coded, making it easy for even small children to identify and assemble. Easy to Follow step-by-step instruction booklet included with antsy pants I spent the day watching my children's imagination being sparked. Suddenly they were creative, collaborating and storytelling. The neighbor kids joined them, and we were the most popular yard on the block. Once the skeleton is built with the poles and connectors, add your cover and voila, instant play! The ice cream truck is an absolute hit, and I've already been asked to bring home an assortment of popsicles so they can step-up their imagination as they hand out ice cream from the windows. The finished product is lightweight. We moved it through the yard a few times with no effort or calamity. It is quick to assemble and disassemble and stores easily for convenient play. We received the ice cream truck cover, but there are different themes such as pirate ships, castles, lemonade stands and more to make playtime personalized and storytelling something to imagine! It's playtime that empowers your child to build anything they can imagine and create magical moments for hours on end. Find Antsy Pants at Target stores nationwide. We received Antsy Pants Large Pole Kit and Ice Cream Truck Cover in exchange for this post. All opinions and our love for forts and build-and-play kits remains our own. Hey now, hey now, this is what dreams are made of! Before you can unleash your imaginations and dreams as a famous pop star or a veterinarian, it's time to build your very own stage and clinic. Hey, you gotta have room for all the superstar routines and medical procedures, right? Kids can make their dreams a reality and build their very own play spaces using the 51 included poles, connectors, and fabric covers in Antsy Pants Build & Play Pop Star Stage or the Antsy Pants Build & Play Pet Clinic Kit, by Beach House Group. The Build and Play Pop Star Stage kit includes poles and connectors that easily snap together for a two-level stage base. Before you are ready for your close-up, use the included Pop Star stage cover in blue and purple fabric to decorate your stage, fit for an aspiring artist. Whether it's singing, dancing, juggling, or some other hidden talent, allow your kids to showcase their skills and be a star with this stage set. Before the spotlight beckons, it's time to set the stage. To build, use the included poles and connectors for an easy snap-into-place construction to create the frame. The instructions are easy to follow, and the colored poles snap into the correct connectors easily to form the two level base. It takes less than 10 minutes to put together the framework (kids can easily help put it together!). Be sure that every pole and connector is snapped in completely and tightly, and make sure the pink connectors especially are pushed in as far as they will go between the poles so the curtain will smoothly fit atop. Once the frame is set, add the included blue and purple curtain fabric to it to make it feel like a proper stage. While there are no instructions to add the cover, it is just like putting up a curtain rod, where you slide the poles through a slit in the top of the fabric. Next, make sure to tie off the lower corners of the fabric to the base so the background is secure. Then, it's time to shine and take center stage as kids bring their imagination to life! Kids ages 4 and up can stage VIP productions inside the three-sided stage. And, excuse me: I'm ready for my close-up. Beach House Group's Antsy Pants play sets, affordably priced at $44.99, come in a variety of themes, not just a pop star's dream stage. For the animal lovers, kids can embrace their imagination and scrub in for a shift at their own pet clinic and help stuffed animals and pets feel better with pretend check-ups with the Build & Play Pet Clinic. Before you can scrub in at the pet clinic, an adult can help set up the pop-up clinic, similarly to the stage construction. Click and snap together the poles and connectors for the framework to come to life. Then, add the included double-sided cover, complete with a real window and hospital imagery inside to let your young vet's imagination run wild as beloved stuffed animals await check-ups. Once the framework for the two sets are built in an easy click-together fashion, kids can spend hours of imaginative play discovering new worlds as they become a famous pop star slaying it onstage or a vet who gives their stuffed animals some TLC, or both, because why should kids have to decide on just one? Go on and be the best veterinarian/singing star of your wildest dreams. When your shift at the clinic or the musical concert is over, the Antsy Pants tents make a perfect hideaway for kids to curl up with their favorite teddy bear, book, or toy and play in their own private space. Snap, click, cover, and soar far, far away—into the land of imagination, that is. Now, kids can set the scene for any wild adventure or imaginative experience thanks to Antsy Pants, a simple system of build and play kits and covers that let kids create unique playhouses. Antsy Pants Build & Play kits are available in three sizes (small, medium, and large) and feature high-quality snap and click poles and connectors. Kids can use the included instruction book for inspiration to create a ball pit, a tent, a lemonade stand, a castle, an ice cream truck, or even a pirate ship. The color-coded poles match the instructions perfectly, so kids can build without frustration. While kids can totally build themselves, the structures sometimes build fairly tall, so adults may need to lend their height and a helping hand. Antsy Pants covers fit snugly over kids' creations, and bring fun elements of color and whimsy to playtime. The covers are each sold separately from the Build & Play kits, so if you're not interested in shelling out a little extra, kids can always use sheets or tarps to add imaginative covers of their own to their playhouse constructions as an alternative. However, the covers are completely worth the investment. From a charming citrus-inspired Lemonade Stand to a striped circus tent to a soft pink and blue fairy tale castle, the covers allow kids to create the perfect setting for their imaginative stories. The Antsy Pants constructions are super sturdy, standing up to even the toughest kids. These play houses definitely beat blanket forts of yesteryear. Best of all, they allow kids to engage in completely unplugged playtime while engaging their imaginations and interacting with each other. Added bonus: with each kit purchased, Antsy Pants helps KaBOOM! build playgrounds for kids living in poverty across America. Great for use indoors or outside, Antsy Pants provide the perfect excuse to get kids up, active, and exploring the depths of their imaginations. Free shipping with no order minimum required.
