Tips for reading sheet music It's not the difficult part, it's to play all notes at the right pace that it is difficult. You can look at a paper with musical notes all over the place and wonder how you can play it. The number one   tre   tre   tre   tre   tre   tre   tre   tre To achieve this, you should allow yourself to play in the wrong keys to learn. One way to start learning is to position your hand, for example, your right thumb on note C. So, what finger should get in the action if the next note is an F? The ring finger, is the right answer. To help you achieve this process, the collection of piano notes on this site is presented in three versions. Start with them with notes letters if you are a beginner.
