Image: shutter Sewing is one of those skills that is thought to be very feminine, but it really shouldn't be associated with a particular gender. After all, few people cook better than military men who are generally taken to be the very height of masculinity. Stitching is not just about embroidering beautiful things on fabric, after all. It is also to be able to defend yourself as an adult. If you need to bring your coat to the detergents or your shirt to your mother's house whenever there is a tear in the lining or a button that seems likely to separate the senses with your head, then you are truly into a pickle. Sewing is simply one of those things you need to be able to do, like cooking a basic meal or driving a car. However, just because you know the basics doesn't mean you're an expert. Only someone with a good basic knowledge of sewing will be able to ace this quiz about stitch types, machines you could use for sewing, types of thread, needles and other tools, and of course, practical tricks to walk away with not working too hard but still making sure you didn't cut any corners. JH CareLink is a web-based application to link JHM member organizations to community practices. Through JHM CareLink, community users secure access to select patient information in the JHM EMR data repository and improve the continuity of care. This continuity provides many benefits for our patients, including the following: Provides a more transparent flow of information among doctors. It makes it easier for external doctors to place references and orders at JHM. Connect JHM doctors with e-visit specialists, providing care to a wider group of patients. It allows JHM to send information electronically to community clinics. It provides community clinics with access to review the patient's chart for encoding and following on complaints. It allows the coordination of social services outside the JHM. JH CareLink is not an EMR solution; This is a read-only application with some service-oriented features, such as the entry of the procedure order and the co-distribution of domestic health orders. JH CareLink provides medical doctors with access to medical documents of their patients for 90 days after consultation of the doctor, laboratories or imaging tests, embassies or hospitalization visits at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center, Howard County General Hospital, Sibley Memorial Hospital, Johns Hopkins All Children's Hospital and Johns Hopkins medical patient services. It covers over 70% of the planet, with marine plants that provide up to 80% of our oxygen, and almost the middle of the world depending on the ocean for their primary food source. We can't afford to forget how important it is for human survival ... yet we do it. We forget and treat the ocean as a gigantic dumpster, allowing over 8 million tons of plastic waste to enter every year in the sea, killing millions of marine animals and poisoning the ocean ecosystem. For a long time, most of us didn't know that this was happening â € ¢ "that our plastic bottles, utensils, packaging, toothbrushes, etc., were running over the beaches and in the ocean we love. I was unaware until I saw the first-person plastic pollution on the California coast. Shortly after that moment, I was determined to create a way to give us the whole opportunity to make a difference in what is quickly become an environmental crisis. I know people want to help â € ¢ "to make an impact, believe that their actions make the difference, that I really believe they do it. The author in a beach in California. Mimi Ausland I decided to create FreeTheocean.com (FTO) to give to anyone, wherever the opportunity to make a difference with plastic pollution. Visiting the site and simply by answering the question of daily trivia, the removal of a piece of plastic from the ocean and the coasts is financed. Our advertisers and sponsors at the bottom of the site Our Cause partner, Sustainable Hawaii, those actually remove plastic. It is free and takes about 30 seconds to answer the demand for trivia, and right or wrong, the removal of plastic is still financed. From the moment of launch in August 2019, the FTO community has helped to remove over 10 million pieces of plastic. People play from over 140 countries, countries, together every day to be part of our community and be part of something positive. Going back to the ocean that gives so much to us, it's more important than ever and we're so excited to build a community of people who want to be part of the solution. Hopefully it's a bright spot in your day, it's not another negative statistic or a piece of news. Removing the plastic is the first part of our mission, the second is keeping out. This is where our online store comes in - we offer sustainable, plastic-free products to replace everyday items to help you change your behavior. Trying to go to zero waste or plastic-free all right away can be difficult and frustrating. This is why we have curated a range of products to help you make it easier and hopefully more fun! It is important to note that every product purchased helps fund the removal of 10 to 20 pieces of plastic from the ocean and coasts, a win-win. I hope you head to Freetocean.com, answer the daily question of curiosity, and feel good knowing that you are part of a community that is helping us protect our ocean â € ¢ - I that always protects us.â Mimi Ausland started her career Causes at the age of 14 with a one-click website that He went on to donate over 27 million meals to homeless animals. In 2019, he founded the website Freetheocean.com â "A way for anyone, anywhere, to have an impact on the issue of plastic pollution. He currently lives in Venice, California, California.
